

Mr. Harding's Birthday
A $60,000 Cost
For Each Man, One Rat
Old? Beware Cancer

—By Arthur Brisbane

President Harding was fifty-six years old yesterday. Congratulations and congratulations yourself on having a President that takes the American view of things.

What has he done?
Well, instead of going to Europe to ruble income, he has Europe coming here to talk common sense about cutting armaments, saving the world from bankruptcy.

Next to the birthday announcement you read that the public debt has been reduced four hundred and sixty-five millions in the past month.

And the national payrolls have been trimmed, so that today, of our total population, only one in thirty-five is carried on a United States government payroll, pension roll or other roll.

A little while ago it was one in fourteen of all the inhabitants, instead of having eight millions of us helping to milk Uncle Sam, there are only three millions on the job now—that's an improvement.

A lady in New York, or her food, foolish husband, has bought a cake cost for $60,000. The interesting thing about the cost, more interesting than the price, is the extreme lightness, in spite of the fact that it reaches almost to the ground. It weighs only six pounds.

Do not worry about "wicked extravagance of the rich." It doesn't matter to anybody on earth whether $60,000 remain in the pocket of a food husband, or more to the bank account of Binky & Blaine, dressmakers, who know a good "prospect" when they see it.

Nothing does a man except WASTE. To pay a million dollars for a necklace means nothing, money is merely shifted. To keep a million men parading in the army wasting their time, or a dozen millions with powdered wigs and fat legs in your front hall, that is waste. The only real waste is human labor. If you don't waste it, that, nothing matters, be as big a fool as you like with your money.

Once, in America's greatest city, New York, school teachers, policemen and saloon keepers were about equal. Now the saloon keepers, officially, have been withdrawn. And the number of bootleggers is surely double that of the school teachers and policemen combined.

Here's another interesting fact, announced by the health board, for every inhabitant of New York State in one year. The total population of the globe is greater than the human population of New York. If they make up their minds in Washington to stop killing each other they might, in the last, inevitable result of what war has done, eliminate the human plague, mosquitoes that carry malaria, and the human plague, that take deadly germs of sleeping sickness from the jaws of the crocodile and plant it in human beings. That would be a war worth waging.

All Americans are interested in cancer. The older you are the greater danger. Between fifteen and nineteen years of age one in 250,000 dies of cancer. Between twenty and twenty-five years of age one in 500,000, and one in 150,000 dies of cancer. At sixty years of age one in 100 is killed by cancer. At seventy years of age one in 50 is killed by cancer. At eighty years of age one in 25 is killed by cancer. At ninety years of age one in 10 is killed by cancer. At one hundred years of age one in 5 is killed by cancer. Remember that no medicine or surgery can possibly help cancer.

But cheerfulness helps, deep breathing, good, strong blood. Often in the body of a very old person, dead from other causes, you find a cancer that was conquered and killed within the body.

Any cancer kills so many more women than men scientists don't know. It may be because the forty women sit so much, exercise, and the little and the middle-aged women are more active.

What is happening to money? The government wanted to borrow five hundred millions at 4 1/2 per cent, the men with money offered three times as much as it wanted. Speculators in Wall Street were buying bonds at 100 per cent. Wouldn't it be pleasant if business men that need money to build factories and employ labor could get money for 4 1/2 per cent?

How would you like to be a farmer? A year ago wheat sold for $2.25 a bushel. That is called a "boom." When wheat sold for $1.25 a bushel, when wheat sold for a dollar, or below, the other things have to go down, with the price of wheat, except of cable costs and wheat.

There was a time when "dollar wheat" was the thing to have. It was a time when a man could stand farm wheat with $100 a month farm income. Sometime, it was to break, and wheat, which is an absolute necessity, cannot do better than break.

Wheat also is tumbling, down to 45 cents a bushel delivered in Chicago. A farmer is lucky to get 25 cents for his wheat.

Miss Sadie Grose, in East Boston Court, Admits Charges

Admitting that she had swindled District Attorney Pelletier, former Mayor Curley and other prominent men by a spurious tale of raising a fund for the benefit of former Representative Theodore L. Sorenson, Miss Sadie Grose, thirty-one years old, of No. 3347 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, today pleaded guilty in the East Boston District Court to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The spurious education account she was the swindling of Michael J. Brophy, former Representative, Social Officers (Theodore) and Wain, who arrested her last night, declared that she had admitted to them obtaining the total of $150 from the men she had approached with her trumped-up tale.

After talking with Mrs. Sorenson, who said she had never heard of the girl, Judge Barnes, before whom the case was heard, gave the girl until November 14 to make such restitution as the probation officer decided.

The girl also admitted in court that she had failed to make restitution, ordered by the court two months ago, for the theft of $10 worth of labors, which she had confessed to having taken.

When Mrs. Grose was arrested when she visited the home of former Representative Thomas A. Noland and told him she was collecting a fund to aid Mr. Sorenson, Noland, however, is a close friend of Sorenson, and he at once called Mrs. Noland to the police.

When arrested Miss Grose insisted that she had made the collections in good faith, and said she had completed arrears for her arrest after in Legion Hall, East Boston, on next Monday. Investigation disclosed that the girl had not been served by her for that date, however.

GOLF PROFESSIONAL WHO ENDED HIS LIFE IN WEST NEWTON

He used a small section of railroad track. The body was found by a laborer employed at the clubhouse.

There is an element of mystery in the suicide as nobody is ready to attempt to give any motive.

Teller is survived by a wife, who was Miss Reed, sister of William Reed, famous golfer of England and the "Whiffles" club.

The real reason where the golf club took his life near the Stanton street entrance to the grounds and about 500 yards from his own home.

According to a member of his household, the body was found in the morning, and it is believed that he was alone in the house, and that he was some time selecting a site for the act of self destruction and close the real reason because of the suicide.

Teller, who was thirty-two years old and lived at No. 1805 Washington street, West Newton, was one of the men of the French golfers before he became professional at the Country Club in Brookline. He transferred to the Brae-Burn Club some time ago.

He was the open golf champion of Massachusetts last September at the Brae-Burn Club in Brookline, defeating John Cowan of Chicago. The club engaged in a tournament over the course, Teller finishing the play-off round in 81, while Cowan took 81.

Friends of the champion, who was extremely popular with golfers all over New England, were at a loss to day to account for the suicide.

Teller had not complained of poor health, and he had been picked up on his golf course, so far as was known, and had not shown signs of depression.

is the subject of a plebiscite in Tyrone and Fermanagh Counties.

Discuss Two Plans to Solve Ulster Issue

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Ulster question has been discussed before the Cabinet and the House of Commons today along the lines of two different plans.

The question is not merely one of the counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh, but of other separate Nationalist districts now under the Northern Parliament, in which a plebiscite is being urged, not by violence but by the vote.

The plan, according to the situation, would probably be in the hands of the Government in the event of a vote in the House of Commons.

The Ulster view is that this would leave the northern Parliament with insufficient territory.

The alternative suggestion is to give the northern Parliament all the fine counties of Ulster originally included in the Ulster count.

This would simplify the problem of representation of the two Parliaments in the United Kingdom, as the inequality in the size of the two areas would be diminished.

The Nationalist representation from the North is being increased.

The Northern British Cabinet, however, is unwilling to accept all of Ulster, it appears, unless it could count only on an uncertain majority, and fearing that one of the first acts of an all-Ireland Parliament might be to divide Ulster and join with Southern Ireland.

Edmond de Valera, who is being constantly consulted, is in full accord with the line of policy followed by the Government.

TWO SISTERS WHO SAW FATHER SHOOT MOTHER

Mary, twenty years old, who is shown with her sister, Louise, eleven, claimed to have seen her mother, Blanche, being shot by her father, James H. Gately, in the presence of two daughters in the kitchen of her home at No. 245 Dudley street.

Mrs. Gately is a near death at the City Hospital as a result of the two bullet wounds she received.

Gately pleaded not guilty, when arraigned in Roxbury Court today, and was held in $10,000 for the Grand Jury on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

Gately, according to police, entered the kitchen during the evening in a drunken condition. His wife was washing the supper dishes; one daughter, Mary, twenty years old, was ironing, while another girl, eleven-year-old Louise, was sewing.

Advancing to the center of the floor, Gately began to harangue his wife and axes her roughly where she had been working. As she sought to quiet him, he grew more abusive, and efforts of his daughters to bring about peace proved only to increase his rage.

Suddenly Gately half turned, whipped a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket and fired twice, once hitting his wife in the left side and lodged in her back.

So close was Gately when he fired the second shot that the flash from his revolver set fire to the waist Mrs. Gately was wearing, and when she dropped to the floor, he rushed to her mother and extinguished the fire. The two girls then helped their mother to her feet.

Mrs. Gately staggered, screaming across the street. Gately slipped off a back step to the west Mrs. Gately was standing on a corner near the house.

On the floor Mrs. Gately lay for a moment before a doctor's residence, he went to her, but she was dead.

While Mrs. Gately was being brought to the City Hospital, the sergeant secured a squad of officers and went to a watch factory where Gately has been employed as a night watchman. The factory was there.

PETERS' HOUSE IS GUARDED BY POLICE

Vigilance Is Reported Due to Fear of Sacco-Vanzetti Sympathizers

A special police guard has been placed at the home of Mayor Peters on South street, Jamaica Plain, it was learned today. The guard will be on duty both night and day.

Police vigilance was due, it was said, to fear of possible violence on the part of Sacco and Vanzetti sympathizers.

Mayor Peters said today he could see no reason for the guard himself, and stated he had no cause for fear and did not expect any violence. However, police officials are taking no chances.

WATSON DARES OPPONENTS TO FIGHT HIM

Presenting Hanging Evidence in Senate He Declares Critics "Will Answer to Me"

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Letters and telegrams from persons offering to submit proof of charges that American soldiers overseas were hanged without trial were presented in the Senate today by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, whose presentation of the original charges in the Senate several days ago resulted in appointment of a special committee of investigation.

One of the telegrams, Senator Watson said, was from a former major in the army, and said he could "substantiate the charges."

Watson, from a President of the Philadelphia, offered to give two photographs similar to those presented recently by Senator Watson as showing a gallows hanging.

The Philadelphia, whose name was not made public by the Georgia Senator, said he saw one hanging on the wall of a negro in uniform, and would supply "positive proof" of the hanging. The correspondent did not say whether the hanging was after a court-martial or not.

CLASHES WITH SENATORS.

In presenting his documents, Senator Watson, with much show of feeling, clashed with several Senators, and was rebuffed by several others. Cowdrey said that he should "proceed in order" and observe Senate rules.

Pacing the Republicans, Senator Watson said, was after a court-martial or not.

"You make a fight on me if you can," he said. "You said you'd put my head against a wall. Come on, do it."

Senator Watson said that 3,000,000 private of war were "enlisted" with his aid and that negroes were in the photograph he presented would resist it.

Hereafter the man who impugns my honor," he said in conclusion, "will answer to me not only here but somewhere else."

Senator Dodge, of New Jersey, read from the New Jersey newspaper presented by Mr. Watson that the holders whose execution was there pictured had been found guilty of attacking a seven-year-old French girl, who had died.

The Georgia Senator again attacked Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, who first called the Senate's attention to Senator Watson's charges.

ATTACKS WADSWORTH.

"It is only a few hours," said Mr. Watson, "since I was put on the rack in a most brutal, unprincipled manner by the execution of William Barnes a crook."

Mr. Watson said that a former Georgia soldier was charged with furnish proof of the hanging charges, and that he might appoint him as secretary so that he might stand in aid in proof.

Senator Wadsworth did not reply.

Watson read a large number of letters, telegrams and newspaper clippings into the record, all reporting alleged crimes to or mistreatment of soldiers.

The Georgia Senator referred to his data as "evidence of confidence."

"I would be glad to disbelieve these charges," said Mr. Watson. "If proof is submitted that they are not true I will be glad to know they are not true."

He then added:

"I can show and will show that officers have men shot with no trial whatever. I can show and will show that officers told courts-martial what to do in order that the courts-martial might keep from being shot themselves."

DOUGHBOY MUST MEET COST OF BRIDAL TRIP

U. S. Rules Against Reimbursement for European Passage

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 3.—Soldiers who paid for the transportation of European brides to this country must stand the expense themselves, according to a ruling by the War Department. The government, he said, will not reimburse soldiers for such outlay.

The ruling was handed down in the case of Christopher Phares, formerly of the army ambulance service, who had paid for the transportation of his bride to this country at the expense of the government prior to June 8, 1920. Mr. Phares had to apply where a soldier has already paid, "because the enlisted men were habitually unable to bear the cost."

When Your Profile Looms Big Against the Wall

By VERNON RADCLIFFE

WHEN your profile looms big against the wall—are you afraid to look at it? Are you afraid to glimpse the tell tale line around the chin and under neck? Your profile tells the truth about the muscles and tissues that underlie your skin.

If these are flabby and sagging you look old—even though your complexion is blooming. It is tragic because unnecessary.

Old Treatments Fail
A complexion is often cared for at the expense of muscles and tissues that underlie it. Unscientific, old-fashioned massage has made more old women than age. To parboil your skin with hot water or steam and knead and maul the muscles of your face is bound to be injurious. All that gives the appearance of cleanliness only, results. Your beauty specialist will tell you so.

Building Youthful Contour
Mineralava Beauty Clay is the one way to preserve the youthful contour and to cleanse the pores—Nature's way—so startling, so revolutionary in idea, so different from any treatment that you have known to try. Instead of being just one more thing to put on the face, to rub in the pores, Mineralava Beauty Clay takes out.

This new method stimulates the skin cells by bringing the blood to the surface. It actually tightens the relaxed and vital muscles into a firmness that you feel—all without resort to massage.

Mineralava Beauty Clay cleanses—washes off—and is gone, all in twelve minutes. Mineralava Face Finish completes the benefit.

Mineralava—Cold Water—Face Finish
Mineralava, Nature's Beauty Clay, originated by Mrs. M. G. Scott and perfected by her through 23 years of scientific research and experiment, accomplishes two important results—it tightens sagging muscles and it withdraws impurities from the pores.

Answers Modern Needs
As it fits it contracts. You feel its medicinal ingredients penetrate the depths of the pores. You feel it withdraw foreign matter. You feel the wrinkles smooth out. You feel the flabby skin made tight. You feel the cleansing, purifying blood tingle through each tiny vein.

Immediately, a blooming youthfulness glows and radiates from the cheeks. Mineralava Face Finish is a necessary skin food and tonic, acts as a mild bleach and forms a perfect base for your face powder. You apply it at the proper time, after the pores are cleansed.

Lasting Beauty of Complexion
Continue this treatment regularly twice a week and we guarantee, whether you are sixteen or sixty, a marked improvement in your complexion—removing the causes of blackheads, pimples, enlarged pores, blemishes of all kinds—preserving beauty and youthfulness of contour—dispelling wrinkles.

Ask for Mineralava TO-DAY
Go to your druggist or department store to-day and ask for the two bottles—Mineralava Beauty Clay and Mineralava Face Finish—containing nothing else but the purest and most effective of all skin treatments. This, the best beauty treatment ever known, costs you less than 20c a treatment since you can now use it at home. If your druggist or department store is wise, they will fill out the coupon below to Mrs. Scott. You may try Mineralava Beauty Clay at once by enclosing 25c with the coupon for a demonstration tube.

The need for the necessities of life is great this year. The need for the cheer which we associate with the Christmas season is also great. Many need something more than bare subsistence.

I know that with the thought in mind these will do to help your fund will do to help your fund.

Several checks and money orders have already reached the Boston American office as contributions to the fund, and will be tabulated in the American soon. Among the first contributions received was a check for $10 from Miss M. F. Drake, a widely known Bostonian.

Included herewith please find my contribution to the fund. The Boston American Christmas Basket Fund, it is indeed a pleasure to contribute to such a noble cause.

At the time we hope to express my deep appreciation of the splendid work of the fund. The fund is rendered in the raising of the fund for the needy.

Another check for $10 from Mrs. John P. Toomey of Roxbury, who was the fund's first donor.

Two entertainments and dances have been arranged in aid of the fund. One of them has been planned by Mrs. P. C. Heintzmann, proprietor of Heintzmann House Academy, of No. 128 Tremont street, Boston.

The other has been arranged by Helen Schmitt-Walton, who carries the studio of that name in the Parker House Building, Waltham.

Mrs. Heintzmann will have personal charge of the party in her school, Friday evening, December 3.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Heintzmann the fund has been able to carry out an entertainment and dance in her studio. It was one of the largest contributions ever turned over to the fund.

PATROLMAN HALTS

RUNAWAY HORSES

Patrolman Arthur Thomas of the West Dedham street station was being congratulated by his fellow-officers today on his heroism in stopping a runaway team in Broadway extension at Albany street last night. The team dashed down the street, driven by Timothy Caulfield, thirty-four years old, of No. 711 Third street, South Boston, to the roadway, following collision with an auto truck. Thomas saw the runaway, jumped into the rear of his wagon as it went past him, climbed over the dashboard and brought the frightened horses to a stop just as they were about to crash into a crowded City Point car. Caulfield sustained a dislocated shoulder.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

Several Bostonians Plan to Spend Winter Abroad

By BETTY ALDEN.

Through the major portion of society folk went their way Europe-ward during the Summer months, not a few members of Boston's socially-minded are planning to travel abroad this Fall and Winter. One beam that Mrs. Chester Guild and her daughter, Miss Mary Chester Guild, of No. 121 Beacon street, will cross the "big pond" for the first part of this month, and are to remain away for a year. They will have a portion of the Winter on the Riviera—what a contrast to our bleak New England climate—and the remainder of the season will be spent at St. Moritz, Switzerland. The latter resort is famous for its Winter sports, and no end of representatives from the smart set of here, there and everywhere, are found there annually. I believe that Mrs. Margaret Anderson Thomas is accustomed to spend the cooler months there with her daughter, Marguerite Thomas, which explains me that Miss Thomas, whose father was a large estate in Hamilton on the North Shore, where the Thomas family were for the Summer, will be married this coming Spring upon their return from abroad to John Parwell Anderson Davis, son of Judge and Mrs. Charles Thomas Davis of Brookline and Marblehead. The engagement of the young couple—Miss Thomas is a member of the 1918 Bowling Circle and her father a graduate of Harvard—was announced last June.

Mrs. George Lee and her daughter, Florence Lee, of Beverly Farms, are also to join the Wintering abroad contingent this year. The charming mistress of "Villa al Mare" and her daughter, who sailed a few days ago, are planning to make a tour of sunny Spain before going on to France and Italy. Mrs. Lee's native country, prior to her marriage she was Eva Ballou. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams Cross of No. 15 Beacon street have also been recently called for foreign shores with their daughters, Mary and Elizabeth, and their son, Ralph C. Cross, formerly a student at St. George's school, and Miss Maria Reed, who makes her home with the Crosses. Like Mrs. Lee and her daughter, the first destination of Mr. and Mrs. Cross will be Spain, where they will spend the Winter. Sailing on the same boat with the Crosses, the Anson, was Mrs. Margaret De Koen of New York and formerly of the North Shore circle, as well as Mrs. Alexander Rodwick and Miss Christina Rodwick of Brookline and New York, who spent several Winters on Mount Vernon street in this city.

A social event carrying a Boston interest in the marriage of Miss Lily Jay Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Draper of Chelsea, N. C., who formerly of Boston, to Edward Owen Fitzsimmons of Washington. The wedding, which took place on Wednesday, was solemnized in St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Charlotte. The bride, whose former home was with her parents in Hopedale, Mass., claims prominent family connections. She is the grand daughter of the late General William F. Draper of Boston and Washington, at one time American Ambassador to Italy, and is a step-daughter of the Princess Bulwigin, ex-ambassador of Italy, formerly Margaret Draper. The Princess, so society at the capital city, is expected to spend the coming Winter in Washington, where she will resume the magnificent Draper residence on K street.

MALDEN DOCTOR HURT

AS TROLLEY HITS AUTO

Dr. Thomas Leavitt, thirty-five years old, of the Glen Rock Hospital, Malden, was painfully hurt early today when his auto came in collision with an Allston trolley on Harvard street at Brighton. In the car with the doctor were two women, but the police did not obtain their names. The physician's car was wrecked and he was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital and from there to the Malden Hospital in a passing automobile.

ANCIENT EGGS DRIVE

OUT HEALTH CLERKS

Proof positive that eggs do not improve with age and that the new food regulations of the Department of Health had been violated came to light when eggs ordered for use in making cultures were opened. The hatching cultures were spoiled, and the health officials of the department and the necessary papers were prepared for court action against the store that sold the eggs.

WALTHAM

THE WORLD'S WATCH OVER TIME

Once a Year Friends are the treasures you gather through the years. Some you see often. Others may live beneath the Southern Cross or make the austere mountains of the North their abiding place. But at some time their ways have traveled with yours long enough to form that precious thing—a friendship.

Your thoughts stray to them at different times. A day by the river recalls a friend made the summer you camped. A night at the opera reminds you of that musician from Russia. A well-thumbed book suggests the evening spent by the open fire with the person who gave it to you.

At Christmas time you think of them all. For then the spirit of love and friendship rules the world. You long to have them know you are thinking of them and to wish them well. So you send a personal greeting card. A tiny bit of color suggests the season's cheer, and a simple message conveys your affectionate thought.

We have a very complete collection of personal greeting cards and booklets for Christmas and the New Year. We suggest that you make your selection early.

Scooping Up the Salmon Dollars of the Southeast With The Georgian-American

A TRUE FISH STORY

ON DEC. 30, 1929, the advertising department of The Georgian-American received a wire from the Iazard Company of Seattle, Wash., asking for an approximate estimate of the stock of pink and chum salmon held by Atlanta jobbers.

On Jan. 3, after a careful investigation, a wire was sent to the Lizard Company giving them the information requested and other valuable information regarding the salmon situation in Atlanta.

On Feb. 1 the advertising department of The Georgian-American received a wire from W. H. Horsley, vice president of the Inland Company, dated at Knoxville, Tenn., requesting that we arrange a meeting of the salmon jobbers to be addressed by him and by J. J. Mack, representing the Association of Pacific Fisheries.

On Feb. 9 a salmon luncheon was served to the jobbers and brokers of salmon in the Chamber of Commerce Cafe, where Messrs. Horsley and Mack explained the proposed advertising campaign to move the dealers' stocks of pink and chum salmon.

On Feb. 10 the promotion and service department, assisted by the entire out-of-town circulation distributing staff of The Georgian-American, started its work to popularize pink and chum salmon.

Lunches with pink and chum salmon as the principal dishes were served to the Kiwanis Club, the Wholesale Grocers' Association and various other civic organizations who meet at weekly luncheon.

On Feb. 12 the retailers of Atlanta and surrounding territory who sell pink and chum salmon were notified of the large campaign to be carried exclusively in The Daily Georgian and Sunday American.

The first advertisement, measuring 210 lines, appeared in The Daily Georgian of Feb. 18, and from then until March 27 copy of various sizes appeared in The Daily Georgian and Sunday American, and when April 1 rolled around the tremendous surplus stock of pink and chum salmon in the Southast had been moved from the brokers' and wholesalers' warehouses and from the retail dealers' shelves to the consumers' tables.

Through the combined efforts of the City Salesmen's Association, the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers Association and the Atlanta Wholesale Grocers Association, thousands of cases—in fact, oceans—of salmon were consumed in the Atlanta district.

When Messrs. Mack (at the left), representing the Association of Pacific Fisheries, and Horale (at the right), vice president of the Isard Company, were able to attract the attention of the Isard family to the need to cover the Southeast, but after examining the circulation of The Sunday American, they decided that they could fully cover the Southeast with The Daily Georgian and Sunday American. One of the Isard family, who is president of the dealer co-operation of all retail and wholesale grocers from Knoxville, Tenn., to Jacksonville, Fla., and when the final check-up was made on the dealer co-operation it was found that 1915 retail gross sales of the Southeastern States were $1,000,000,000. The story covered by The Sunday American (outside of Florida which they did not want to touch because it's a fresh fish State) had helped to put over the greatest Southern selling campaign in the history of the food products, or for that matter, any other products.

Thousands of window and inside counter displays; thousands of window strips and thousands of recipe books were installed and distributed through the efforts of The Georgian-American's merchandising department.

Certainly no better proof than the letter below is needed to convince any manufacturer that you can cover the Southeast with The Georgian-American and its service and merchandising department:

Advertising Campaign conducted in the Georgian

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN has by far the largest circulation in the Southeast—a circulation that means nearly 30,000 more copies at ten cents per copy every Sunday than its nearest competitor.

All worth-while cities, towns and villages from Tennessee and North Carolina to Southern Florida, and from the coast to and including the eastern half of Alabama are well covered with the circulation of The Sunday American.

Here is a partial list of the towns in the Southeast covered by the Sunday American with the net paid circulation for each town.

What the Atlanta Georgian-American did for the Association of Pacific Fisheries it can do for you.

The Atlanta Retail Food Dealers Association (consisting of nearly all the better class independent dealers) selected The Georgian-American exclusively to carry their full page co-operative advertising every Wednesday.

Francis E. Kamper, President of the National Association of Retail Food Dealers (who operates in Atlanta the largest and finest retail pure food store in the country), as well as other leading Atlanta retail food dealers not only use liberal space in The Georgian.

When you want real service and co-operation instead of promises, it will pay you to investigate our Service and Merchandising Department.

NERVES OR NERVE! Nakamura, Brooklyn Jew, is alleged to possess a strange power in curing "incurable" diseases. His touch on nerve centres enables cripples to walk; it is said. He is shown holding a tiny "patient." (U. & H.)

WELL, BALANCED! That is the scene of perfection in both man and machine. Thus the new sport provides a new and thrilling sport for automobilists. This photograph, taken at Portsmouth, England, shows a machine trying to balance on the narrow. The driver who balances his car in the shortest space of time wins the contest. The chap in the back seat helps the car keep a quicker balance. (W. & H.)

ARMY AND THE WOMAN! Miss Rose West of Huron, Mich., asked for place on advisory council of American arms delegation. (U. & H.)

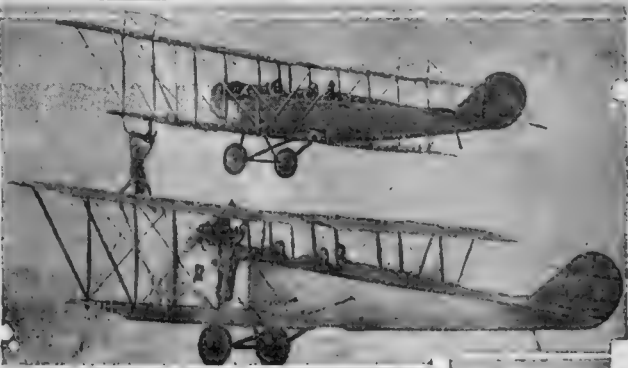

LURVE ROVER of California danced for her dolls when she was a child. Now she dances for grown-ups—mostly male. (K.)

SAM STEINGOLD was sentenced to 20 lashes by a Toronto judge for auto stealing. (Int.)

MINNIE HERSELF! Miss Mildred White interpreted the role of Indian at the recent field day of Harvard College, Cambridge University, and she made a very charming square. Although there were no John Smith present, some of Johns saw the performance. (U. & H.)

TRY THIS BEFORE BREAKFAST—and you won't want any breakfast! You'll be perfectly satisfied to lie very quietly holding a fly. Al Wilson, dervish of the shies, is changing from one plane to another.

SIR THOMAS W. LIPTON, yachtsman, gentleman and good fellow, rode about in this electric buggy. Remember what a creature those old dynamo were and how you stared when one here in sight? Sir Thomas was one of the first men in England to own a car. (U. & H.)

THEY QUARRELED! Perked. She estranged. He showed. Not her at station. Wound her former's Sacramento. Now she's Mrs. F. S. Sweet of Los Angeles.

A HIGH KICKER—not on the stage. "Duke" Marston is the star of the University of California gridiron squad. The camera caught him just as he lifted the pigskin for a field goal during a recent match. Incidentally, it would be a good idea to see him off once for all. Not many games have been won by this route. (U. & H.)

SELECTING PROPER BALL PROVES GREAT HELP TO GOLF PLAYERS

By JOCK HUTCHISON

I wonder how many golf players know anything about the ball they use or should use. I feel it quite certain that the majority of them do not.

It was the golf authority who pointed out to me the importance of selecting a proper ball. I was told that the ball is the most important part of the golf club, and that the player who uses a proper ball will find it easier to play and will get more out of his game.

When I was told this, I was very much interested. I had never before thought of the ball as being so important. I had always thought of the club as being the most important part of the game.

B. C.'S BIGGEST GAME COMES SATURDAY

Coach Whelan Points His Team to Give Tufts Eleven a Good Argument

Boston University plays its first game of the year when it takes the Tufts football team at Medford oval Saturday. The Brown and blue warriors have been especially groomed for the B. U. game. A stellar backfield is promised.

Coach Whelan has pointed the team toward this game and the squad will be in the pink of condition when the Tufts' whistle starts the fight. The fact that "Doc" Whelan formerly coached the Tufts squad makes the Medford team all the more anxious to win a fast touchdown.

Tufts has made an impressive record on the gridiron this season. In the first three games, the team has won three and lost none. The team is now ranked second in the New England conference.

Coach Whelan is much proud of all this and he intends to keep the team in the lead. He has a long and successful coaching career behind him, and he knows what it takes to win.

OFFICIALS OF STATE DEPT. OF HEALTH

Management Should Be Thoroughly Responsible, Declares State Health Commissioner

John Jones, fresh out of a blacksmith shop, can start a hospital. He need have no special training. All he has got to do is start it. The State has little or no control over him.

Dr. Eugene N. Kelley, the State Commissioner of Health, said today that hospitals ought to be licensed. Robert K. Conant, State Commissioner of Public Welfare, agreed with him.

James H. Fox, Director of the Division of Child Guardianship of Mr. Conant's department, and Miss Mary McCann, the graduate nurse who actually inspect the 311 maternity wards or maternity hospitals in the Commonwealth, both declared that the State should set up standards which will guarantee good care to every person who submits his enfeebled body to a hospital for treatment.

SHOULD BE RESPONSIBLE. "Every hospital ought to be under trained, technical and business management," said Dr. Kelley. "The standard ought to be good. The management ought to be thoroughly responsible. We owe to the sick person the duty of seeing to it that he will be properly cared for."

"The State should establish these standards and be responsible for their enforcement. The license should be granted by the State Department of Health, subject to appeal to the State Department of Public Welfare. A person in whom a license is refused or by whom a license is suspended is a person who is a danger to the public and should be treated as such."

Dr. Kelley said an attempt was made to secure the passage of a bill for the licensing of hospitals at the last session of the State House, but it failed. The bill was introduced by Mr. James H. Fox, and it was his responsibility to see that it was passed.

TRACES OF ILLEGITIMATE UNIONS PICTURED AS SOCIAL DANGER BY DR. CAMPBELL

Illegitimate Unions Pictured as Social Danger By Dr. Campbell

The breaking of the natural law, as in commercial marriages, is as likely to lead to trouble as the breaking of natural laws in illegitimate unions, according to Dr. C. M. Campbell, director of the Boston Psycho-pathic Hospital.

Dr. Campbell, speaking before an audience of 80, chiefly women, at the Cambridge Club, said that the breaking of the natural law in illegitimate unions is a social danger. He said that the breaking of the natural law in illegitimate unions is a social danger.

There are certain nervous disorders, he said, which physicians have found more commonly in illegitimate unions than in other people. Most families of these disorders have a history of illegitimate unions. Married mothers are also inclined to have nervous disorders.

LOVELESS UNIONS DANGEROUS. "The prohibition, however, is rarely interested in the question of illegitimacy," he said. "The breaking of a natural law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a social law. The breaking of a social law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a natural law."

"Many illegitimate unions are the result of a social danger," he said. "The breaking of a natural law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a social law. The breaking of a social law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a natural law."

TWO LARGE GROUPS. "There are in fact, two large groups of illegitimate unions," he said. "The breaking of a natural law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a social law. The breaking of a social law is more likely to lead to trouble than the breaking of a natural law."
